The addition of the API means employee data flows seamlessly from the payroll module within Inova HCM to the M3 time management system, eliminating the need to export and import files when employees are added or removed, or when there are changes in jobs or rates of pay.

"M3 has been an important partner to Inova over the years, and this is something both companies saw as an important way to provide additional value to our current and future clients," said Melanie Crow, Senior Vice President of Sales and Marketing for Inova.

"The API-driven integration platform that M3 supports will allow us to increase security and decrease the number of steps in processes while delivering higher data quality and integrity," said Tim Pinson, M3 Product Manager - Integrations.

Scott Watson, M3's Executive Vice President, Sales and Marketing adds, "These types of technological advancements will help continue to position M3, and in turn our customers, as cutting-edge leaders in the hospitality space. It provides yet another avenue in which M3 helps our customers use technology to drive positive financial performance."
